

Herman Miller Wins at Design For Asia Awards

HONG KONG DESIGN CENTRE RECOGNISES SETU, ARRAS AND SAYL IN DFA AWARDS 2011

DESIGN FOR ASIA AWARD

Herman Miller has dominated the 2011 Design For Asia Awards in the Product and Industrial Design Category with Setu winning Gold, Arras being awarded Silver and SAYL merit.

The Design For Asia awards recognises the most influential and best designs in Asia and seeks to raise awareness in the region about the value of good design as an essential component in business success as well as being vital for a sustainable, higher quality life for all.

The judging took place in early September at the Hong Kong Design Centre with the judging panels comprised of regional editors, design professionals and experts with a range of experience from business, professional, and design disciplines.

Setu and SAYL's awards add to their growing lists of recognition from across the globe and Arras' Silver award builds on its recent success at the 2011 Australian International Design Awards.

The Herman Miller team will be on hand at the Gala Dinner in December to receive our awards.
